

Smart Grocery System

Many households usually struggle to manage their grocery shopping because they lack planning and budgeting tools. People often go shopping without knowing the full items that they need and the items that they don't need.

This lack of knowledge usually results in:

- Households overspending on groceries.
- Buying items they already have at home.
- Food expiring before it is used.

The Smart Grocery System will help people manage grocery shopping effectively by combining budgeting, smart shopping lists and price comparison. In this system the user will have to put details such as their monthly salary and the number of people they stay with at home so the system can automatically determine the quantity of items you need to buy, where can you get the cheapest item, and how many weeks it would take to finish the grocery.
